Kensington, London Fri 5 December	10-3.30

Is this course for me?

Want to make the most of your ICT suite? Need some subject-specific training? Find out how to make your ICT suite into a multimedia suite, and to use it effectively to practise all four language skills.

Course content:

- How using ICT can fulfil the New MFL Curriculum
- Create interactive worksheets and effective Internet activities using authentic websites
- The use of ICT to develop cross-curriculum activities
- French, Spanish and German examples
- Examples of using the moving image effectively and ways to download and exploit YouTube and other freely available videos
- How to integrate the New Curriculum into existing Schemes of Work

You take away:

- A memory stick of ready made teaching resources and teaching ideas
- Comprehensive handouts

Course Director:

Wendy Adeniji: Considered a national expert on using ICT in MFL teaching, Wendy is a consultant for BBC Education, CILT, the QCA and Comenius centres. She delivers regular training to Local Authorities and schools and is the MFL Moderator for the teacher Resource Exchange. She produces teaching materials for Heinemann and is a Regional Support Advisor for the new Modern Languages Curriculum.

Book early to avoid disappointment, as these courses always fill up quickly.
